Baldock Family Branch Heritage

1546 England to Present, Australia

This apex family member trace of the Baldock's of Kent/Sussex taken back to late medieval England builds upon original 1975 research conducted by relative D.C. Baldock of South Australia by John L.R. Guest 1960- of Melbourne. John is also a direct descendent of William Baldock c1546-1624 & wife Elizabeth Baldock, about 1555-, nee Brooker (11th great grandparents). Some minor, but necessary updates occurred to D.C. Baldock's most valuable research work were made by Guest, and his cousin Anne Launer of Dimboola, Victoria to their specific line Logan-Baldock/Pratt. They are marked accordingly in red and handwritten as a matter of work in progress at the time of first examination of D.C. Baldock's wonderful work.

C1546

Pinpointing the Baldock family's place of origin from the mid 16th century in Kent/Sussex, England

The Baldock family from the time John L.R. Guest's 2nd great-grandfather, James Baldock 1816-1893 left Frant, Kent/Sussex England (border village) and who is recognised as the very first of 16 first settlers to Australia who are all John Guest's lineal ancestors, arrived in the free colony of South Australia on March 10 1840. The researcher, James Baldock's 2nd great grandson refers to him most respectfully as the "Original" first settler of the family to call the Colonies of Australia home.

James was born and raised in Frant, Kent/ Sussex England. It best to refer to this area of England as the Baldock area of domicile because taken back to about 1546 which is the birth year of his and John and Jame's forefather, William Baldock c1546-1624, Yeoman of Lam, Sussex, England , William's direct patrilineal descendants standing between him and his direct descendent James Baldock 1816-1893, who died in Jeparit Victoria, in 1893, all lived in either one , or any combination of the following tight knit and nearby villages of the practically in all sense and purpose the same place, but separated not geographically but by county political/administration borders in the village/s of Wadhurst (East Sussex); Lamberhurst (Kent); Mayfair (East Sussex); Ticehurst, East Sussex; Withyham, Sussex; and Frant (Kent/East Sussex), and so did their spouses.

These villages are no further apart in distance than 9 miles of 14 kilometres and the Baldock called this area home from at least 1546-1840 when James and his widow mother and brother's family migrated to the Colony of South Australia., i.e. three centuries. Many Baldock's remain living in the area and perhaps the hot spot so to speak is not Frant, but Wadhurst, which the researcher prefers to describe as the symbolic home village of Baldock's which rising generations along various branch lines springing from his union with wife Elizabeth Brooker, c1555-, came and went to settle in neighbouring villages less than 30–60-minute, slow walk from Wadhurst (i.e. Frant, Lamberhurst and Ticehurst:

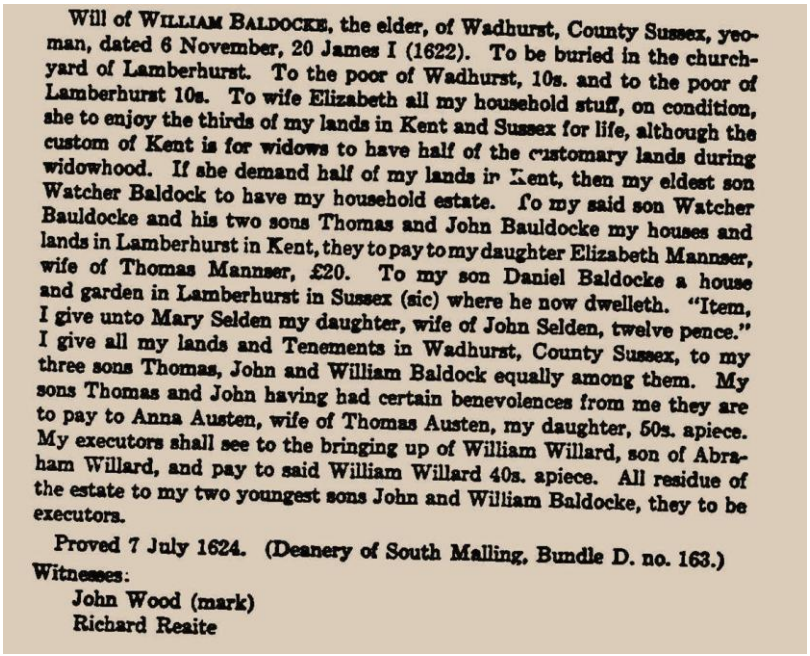
The Last Will of William Baldock c1546-1624

Most beneficial was the names of family members of the earliest family unit Baldock, which were they offspring of William and Elizabeth Baldock, nee Brooker and taken from record of William Baldocke c1546-1624 of Wadhurst, County Sussex, Yeoman, last Will written on 6th November, 20th Year of reign of James I (1622), and "Proved" after his death on 7th July 1624, Deanery of South Malling, Bundle D., No. 63, Witnesses John Wood (mark); Richard Reaite:



Will of WILLIAM BALDOCKE, the elder, of Wadhurst, County Sussex, yeoman, dated 6 November, 20 James I (1622). To be buried in the churchyard of Lamberhurst. To the poor of Wadhurst, 10s. and to the poor of Lamberhurst 10s. To wife Elizabeth all my household stuff, on condition, she to enjoy the thirds of my lands in Kent and Sussex for life, although the custom of Kent is for widows to have half of the customary lands during widowhood. If she demand half of my lands in Kent, then my eldest son Watcher Baldock to have my household estate. To my said son Watcher Bauldocke and his two sons Thomas and John Bauldocke my houses and lands in Lamberhurst in Kent, they to pay to my daughter Elizabeth Mannser, wife of Thomas Mannser, £20. To my son Daniel Baldocke a house and garden in Lamberhurst in Sussex (sic) where he now dwelleth. "Item, I give unto Mary Selden my daughter, wife of John Selden, twelve pence." I give all my lands and Tenements in Wadhurst, County Sussex, to my three sons Thomas, John and William Baldock equally among them. My sons Thomas and John having had certain benevolences from me they are to pay to Anna Austen, wife of Thomas Austen, my daughter, 50s. apiece. My executors shall see to the bringing up of William Willard, son of Abraham Willard, and pay to said William Willard 40s. apiece. All residue of the estate to my two youngest sons John and William Baldocke, they to be executors.

Proved 7 July 1624. (Deanery of South Malling, Bundle D. no. 163.)

Introducing the curator's earliest, traceable Baldocke ancestors

William Baldocke 1546-1624 & Elizabeth, nee Brooking – 10th great grandparents

William identified himself as a Yeoman in his Will. During the late 15th and early 16th centuries, this title represented a social class positioned just outside the official nobility, ranking below gentry and gentlemen, before ascending to esquire and knight bachelor. Yeomen were typically landholders but could also serve as retainers, guards, attendants, or subordinate officials. Within their communities, yeomen were respected members, appreciated by those around them. William's wife, Elizabeth (née Booking), is also an ancestor of the curator, as they are the 11th great grandparents of John L. R. Guest. Their lineage connects directly to John's 3rd great grandparents, James Baldock (1816-1893) and his parents, Thomas Baldock (1676-1733) and Sarah Baldock (17XX-1850, née Walker), the last of the Baldock line to raise a family in East Sussex (Frant/Wadhurst). Widow Sarah Baldock travelled to the Colony of South Australia in 1840 with her son James, along with his brother William and his family. Sarah passed away in 1850 at Ivy Fram, Mt Charles in the Adelaide Hills, while James died in Jeparit Western Victoria. He married Jane Baldock (1837-1919), the curator's 2nd great grandmother, who is recognized as an early pioneer of the Port Philip District, initially settling in Melbourne before moving to New South Wales. Much of the Australian heritage content is derived from the research of D.C. Baldock, the curator's cousin, conducted in 1975, with updates provided by the curator and his cousin, Anne Launer.

William Baldocke & Elizabeth, nee Booker's Family

No fewer than 11 children were born to William Baldock c1546-1624 and Elizabeth Booker c1555-, and all were provided for in William's Will proved on the 7th July 1624 after he demise. William provided for all of them and left his wife Elizabeth, nee Booker 1/3rd of all of his estate to his Wife. He further found the means to help keep the welfare of William Willard, the son of Abraham Willard of Wadhurst, Sussex England. No doubt Abraham was a best friend of William Baldocke.

Their eight children are listed below and eldest son, "Watcher" Baldock is the curator's 10th great grandfather, born Walter Baldocke 1576-1632).

- Walter "Watcher" Baldock 1576–1632 (Two sons Thomas & John Baldock).
- Elizabeth Mansser, nee Baldock wife of Thomas Mansser
- Daniel Baldock
- Mary Seldon, nee Baldocke, wife of John Seldon (son William Seldon)
- Anna Austen, nee Baldock, wife of Thomas Austen.
- Thomas Baldock
- John Baldock (lineal ancestor of John L. R. Guest)
- William Baldock

The evidence-based trace to the curator's 2nd great grandfather James Baldock 1816-1893, first of Australia is stepped out succinctly, immediately after the simple lineal chart of the curator's Baldock herniate offered to the reader as a brief summary of the following page.

Elizbeth also lived a long life and her burial record in 1770, notes not only that she was 90 years old, she was entered with the title "Dame" Elizabeth Baldock. It is uncertain whether Elizabeth inflated her title or the townsfolk including the Parish cleric/record keeper, did. Widower Thomas whose died 2 years a later at a ripe old age of 95 years, forefather is recorded with the pre-entry level nobility title "Yeoman" in his Will proved in 1624, and so too Thomas in his Will of 1772:

"The Anniversary Text Book" - "To Emily on her 21st. Birthday from Mother Oct. 6 1893."

"The Late Mr. J. Baldock.

One by one the old colonists are dropping off. A few days ago our obituary columns recorded the demise of Mr. J. Baldock, once a well-known and highly esteemed in the Mount Torrens district. The late Mr. Baldock was a Kent man, who arrived from England in the ship Elijah in March, 1840. In the company with Captains Allan and Ellis he took up his residence at Port Gawler, where he remained for many years till lured to the Victorian goldfields by rumors of fabulous wealth easily acquired. Not being successful on the fields he returned to South Australia and settled at Mount Torrens. Yet another trip to Victoria was prolific in adventure only, and Mr. Baldock once again returned to South Australia, where he resided till 1888, when he left to join his family in the Nhill and Jeparit districts. The deceased gentleman was highly esteemed by all who had the privilege of his acquaintance, and he was one of the hardiest of Australian colonists."

"Since noticing the death last week of Mr. Baldock, we have learned a few particulars regarding this veteran colonist. Mr. Baldock was born in Kent, Tunbridge Wells, County of Kent, England. In October 1839 he sailed in the ship Elijah for Australia, and arrived in March 1840, Mr. Baldock removed to Port Gawler, in the company with captains Allan and Ellis, for a number of years. Being however i attracted by reports then current about the Victorian goldfields, Mr. Baldock struck out for that colony, but not being successful on the goldfields he returned to South Australia and settled at Mount Torrens. The gold fever appeared to have taken a strong hold of him, and he again migrated to the Victorian goldfields, but had the unpleasant experience of a shipwreck on the way over, which fortunatly was not of a very serious character. After prospecting for a number of years in Victoria, and having to undergo many hardships and privations. Mr. Baldock returned over to join his family in the Nhill and Jeparit districts. It will be noticed that Mr. Baldock's career was a long and eventful one, and he formed one of the hardy pioneers who opened up a new and prosperous land with all its attendent difficulties."

Errors in facts:?
Mr. J. Baldock was born at Frant, Sussex, England, which is approx., 2½ miles south of Tunbridge Wells, Kent.
The ship Elijah just did not ever come to South Australia, if in fact it did exist. As passenger lists are not available to verify my theory, I can only guess that he arrived on the 'Eliza' and that over the years this became corrupted to 'Elijah'. The 'Eliza' on this voyage arrived May 14 from London. If the month of arrival is correct, there are no ships arriving at Port Adelaide that have names that are anything like 'Elijah'.
Captain Allan was Captain William Allen (e not a)
Captain Ellis was Captain John Ellis.
(see later notes on both of the above.)

Further corrective evidence

James Baldock arrived with his widow mother Sarah Baldock, nee Walker and adult siblings in Port Adelaide on the 10th March 1840 (Colony of South Australia, Australia). They departure Port Plymouth, 11th October 1839 aboard the ship Orissa (no Elijah). Confirmed further by the Pioneers Association of South Australia (PASA), to who the curator John L.R. Guest, son of mentioned Jackie Guest inside, is a member, source: J. L. R. Guest 2018).

The ship Orissa's passenger list showing widow Sarah Baldock, nee Walker and James Baldock's journey to the Colony of South Australia arriving amongst the earliest pioneer free settles of the Colony on March 10th 1840 is presented below. The ship Orissa was Captained by James Brown. Listed also is James's brother William and his immediate family. It is likely another sibling also travelled and may have perished taking the journey (research continuing):

1. William was a tailor in Tonbridge and also in Adelaide, but when he and brother James applied for free passage to SA. he gave his occupation as a labourer, as they were needed in the young colony.
2. EMMa is the only female BALDOCK married in SA. that will fit the daughter (no name mentioned) on the 1839 application for free passage to SA. As Diana remarried at St. John's, the church where Emma married, I have gathered details for her descendants.
3. William Henry is the problem, I obtained his birth certificate from England: he is on the 1839 application from England (no name): but I have not been able to trace him any further.

d. Dec 26, 1923, Royal Adelaide Hospital, SA.

George Henry BALDOCK, b. Aug 2, 1842, England
d. Oct, 8, 1843, England.

NOTES

1. All b&d in England from book mentioned on previous page. Could get certificates for those after Jul. 1837 from St Catherines House, London, but cost does not warrant it as far as I am concerned.
2. On Philidelphia's death certificate she is listed as a male and her proffession--carpenter.
3. Destitute Asylum is a forerunner of the Adelaide Hospital.
4. John and Family arrived on the ship the 'Eliza' at Port Adelaide on Aug 20, 1856 .

Maria Baldock, bap. Oct. 4. 1820 St. Albans, Frant Sussex
d. Jan 28, 1838 Frant Sussex.

NOTES Sarah Baldock, nee Walker married Thomas Baldock and not Sarah Goad – see below)

1. No evidence for any other children of Thomas and Sarah.
2. Sarah ~~GOAD had an (illegitimate) son John b. Oct 17, 1806 and bap. Nov. 23, 1806 at Tudeley, Kent. I have not followed him,~~ if this is even possible.
3. ~~Sarah's parents John GOARD and Mary THORPE were married Aug 18 1782 at Tudeley Kent. Other children John and Harriet. (Haven't followed any further)~~
4. Thomas and Sarah were cow keepers at Frant.
5. Hohn BALDOCK'S date of birth from a birthday book. The same book gives Jame's year of birth as 1824, but this only fits the age he gave (and kept to until he died) when he married. At marriage he was 38, not 31 as he stated.

* 6. Identified by Ann Lander & John Guest independently & shared by collaboration on the Heritage 1066 project at "Baldocks," was Sarah Walker 1795-1880, born Clayton, Sussex, Eng & died, "Ivy Farm", South Australia, wife of Thomas, not Sarah Goad. Thomas & Sarah Baldock, nee Walker, parents of:

- Thomas Baldock 1803-1818
- Philadelphia Baldock 1808-1837
- John Baldock 1810-1867
- William Baldock 1811-1812
- William Baldock 1814-1841
- James Baldock 1816-1896, husband of Jane Pratt 1837-1919 (Early pioneered Port Phillip District, NSW, which became the Colony of Vic, migrated to the Colony of South Australia, with her father & Sibblings, then married James Baldock, settling next, in Mt Gambier, SA & criss crossing with husband James Baldock & family across the Colonial border into Western Victoria at Jeparit. Jane died in Jeparit and is buried there. Jane the widow moved back to the Adelaide Hills at Woodside SA, where she rest. (not too far from Ivy Farm.
